200-Year Rule of India by England Comes to an End

KARACHI, Pakistan (Formerly India), Aug. 14 (U.P.)—In a ceremony lasting less than 15 minutes, Great Britain yielded its 200-year rule of India today, and the new nation of Pakistan was born.

Viscount Mountbatten, until today the British viceroy of all India, cut the British reins on the subcontinent of 350,000,000 persons, and let it divide into the Moslem domination of Pakistan and the Hindu domination of India. It was the climax of 50 years of bloody Indian agitation for independence.

Thousands of sweating Indians stood in the streets to shout "Long live Pakistan," as Mountbatten drove to the new state's tiny constituent assembly hall. There, to the accompaniment of booming artillery, he turned over the government of Pakistan to its newly-chosen governor general, Mohammed Ali Jinnah.

Jinnah replied that his government would foster racial and political tolerance, but even as he spoke amid the ceremonial trappings, Hindus and Moslems scattered over India were battering each other to death in continued rioting.

Gandhi Quarters Stoned

Even Mohandas K. Gandhi, father of Indian independence and the most revered man in India, had his Calcutta headquarters stoned.

The bitter Hindu-Moslem strife over irreconcilable religious differences forced the partition of India. The division was intended to let each sect rule its own followers, but the fate of 565 princely states—where Hindus and Moslems live in almost equal numbers—has been left to boundry commissions for later settlement.

Riches Divided

The riches of India, which prompted Queen Elizabeth to charter an Indian trading company in 1600, were split between the two new states.

Pakistan, with a population of 60,000,000 persons, controlled 200,000 square miles of land, including India's food and jute producing areas.

Absorb Princely States

The companion state of Dominion of India possessed India's big cities, great industrial resources, 800,000 square miles of land, and 200,000,000 people.

It also was expected eventually to absorb the 85,000,000 persons living in the princely states now disputed.

India Release Jolts England Trade Crisis

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Britain, beset by an economic crisis at home, faced today the prospect of new trade difficulties stemming from the establishment of an independent India.

The Indian independence act, sealed by King George VI last month, does more than end British rule over this country's richest possession, which the merchant adventurers of London began exploiting 350 years ago.

Two "Temporary" Dominions

It creates the two new independent "temporary" dominions of Hindu India and Moslem Pakistan and for the first time since the 17th century gives the sprawling sub-continent's 400,000,000 people control over their political destinies and economic resources.

The dominion status which India and Pakistan are assuming is by no means permanent. Each has set up its own constituent assembly and each will choose its own constitution, with the ultimate option of becoming sovereign nations totally independent of the British commonwealth.

Hope Choice "Good"

Britons still hope that both new countries will choose to enjoy their independence inside, rather than outside, the commonwealth.

If both countries decide to leave the empire, the consequences for Britain will be incalculable.

Economically, it will mean she will have to compete for the vast subcontinental trade market on equal terms with the rest of the world's producer countries.

Gooding Fair Gets Started With Judging

GOODING, Aug. 14—The annual Gooding county fair and rodeo got underway this morning when nearly all 4-H exhibits were judged and the holstein class judging was completed in the "open" fair. The rodeo will start at 8 p. m. today at the Gooding rodeo grounds.

A bull owned by Harold Coddington, Rupert, won the grand champion award in the holstein aged bull division and Purl O. Massey's animal won the yearling junior champion award.

Other holstein awards announced on the opening day were R. W. King and sons, Wendell, first in the aged bull division; Coddington, first in the two-year old bull class; Massey, first places in the junior yearling bull and bull calf events; V. W. Carson, Bliss, first in heifer calf class; and Carson and Gaston, Bliss, first in the junior yearling class.

J. T. Pierson, Caldwell, Canyon county agent, was judge for holsteins. All the 4-H exhibits except sheep and swine were judged this morning.

Gooding stores were closed at 2:30 p. m. today to permit employes to attend the opening fair festivities and Wendell stores will close at 1 p. m. Friday on "Wendell and West Point day" at the celebration.

A parade will form at 7 p. m. Friday at the state school and march to the race grounds for the grand entry. The Shoshone and Gooding high school bands will lead the procession which will include several riding clubs from Magic Valley, saddle horses and stock horses in the rodeo.

A saddle horse show is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Friday and drills will be presented by Shoshone, Wendell and Gooding riding clubs. Fireworks displays will be set off after the rodeo each night.

Additional seating facilities have been added to the grandstand bringing the seating capacity to 5,000.

Burley Resident, 81, Injured When Struck on Street

BURLEY, Aug. 14—Henry Haggeman, 81, pioneer resident of Burley, is in the Cottage hospital recovering from severe lacerations on the abdomen received about 6:45 p. m. Wednesday when he was struck by a car driven by Earl L. Cobble, Twin Falls.

Cobble was released on his own recognizance and no charges have been filed yet, pending further police investigation.

Cottage hospital attendants said Hageman had "a good night."

The mishap occurred on north Albion street and was investigated by Patrolman J. F. Bedingfield. Cobble was driving a 1947 Studebaker sedan.

Heat Wave Blast Leaving Mid-West

By The Associated Press

The 'midwest's fading heat wave blew a sultry kiss of farewell to Illinois, Indiana, and part of Michigan today, at the same time heatowing a blast-furnace embrace on the east.

The weather bureau at Chicago said hot weather would continue today in Illinois, Indiana and the southeastern half of lower Michigan, but that cooler air was working into those areas and should bring relief by nightfall.

Hey Lucille! C'mon, Le's Wheel!

Putting some teeth into the verses of "My Merry Oldsmobile," Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gault are going just as far as they like in their 1911 model. Here they are shown beside the museum piece that stretched over two parking places (it's 18 feet, three inches long) while they stopped briefly in Twin Falls en route back to Ohio after a trip to California. Disgusted With Your Old Bus? Cheer Up--He Uses This Snappy 1911 Model

By JOHN BROSNAN

In case you're feeling forlorn because you're still driving a pre-war model car, just read about the travels of one E. W. Gault of Lorain, O.

No matter how old your buggy is, it will look practically modern beside the 1911 Oldsmobile Limited in which the Gault entourage lumbered through Twin Falls Wednesday.

The big touring car, which dwarfed other cars of more recent vintage, attracted groups of bug-eyed spectators wherever it stopped or even slowed down. Contrary to the first impression of most everyone, it wasn't a gag, and there didn't seem to be any commercial angles, aside from the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Gault handed out postcard pictures of the bus for two-bits a throw whenever people asked for them.

The story is that Gault, a rotund, cigar-smoking tourist, is an automotive mechanic who has the hobby of collecting and restoring old model cars in his spare time. This spare time must be something of which he has ample supply, as he put in some 3,000 hours rebuilding the six-cylinder job which set Twin Falls agape. The most unusual phase of the whole thing is that every part of the car looks practically new, including the tires, seat upholstery, shiny finished wood dashboard, motor, etcetera. This is due to the 3,000 hours of Gault attention, however, as it was in "pretty sad shape" when he got it. It has more brass than the officer staff of a headquarters company.

The car is one of 16 in his collection, and they decided to try it out on the maiden voyage after the restoration by a trip to California and back. The Gaults, accompanied by Mrs. Marie Fletcher, were on their way back to Ohio via Yellowstone park when they chugged out of Twin Falls. They put about 5,000 miles on the speedometer during the trip so far.

Asked how much the car was worth, Gault's eyes twinkled, he took

Russia Given One Week on Korea Union

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The United States gave Russia one week from today to "put up or shut up" in American-Soviet efforts to achieve a united Korea.

Stripped of its diplomatic language, that is the essence of Secretary of State Marshall's letter to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, setting an Aug. 21 deadline for a report on the long stalemated negotiations by a joint commission in Seoul.

If the Russians fail to put up by then, Marshall said, "each government immediately should consider what further steps may usefully be taken to achieve the aims of the Moscow agreement, namely the establishment of an independent, united Korea which can take its place among the United Nations."

American authorities who left no doubt as to the new "put up or shut up" attitude represented Marshall as determined that the Korean negotiations must not bog down completely as have efforts to reach agreements with the Soviets on some other issues.

While the letter made no mention of what "further steps" this government might take, some officials suggested the United States might take the issue back to a four-power conference in quest of some other method for reaching an agreement.

Dworshak Affirms Plea on Gas Cost

POCATELLO, Aug. 14 (AP)—Commenting on Attorney General Clark's planned probe into the high cost of living, Sen. Henry C. Dworshak, R., Ida., said today that Clark first should investigate Idaho gasoline prices.

"A year ago," Dworshak explained, "I requested an investigation be made to determine whether there was justification for the uniformly high price on gasoline in Idaho. Since then little, if anything, has been done by the justice department."

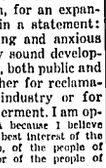

Sanborn Reiterates Opposition to CVA

WASHINGTON, Aug 14 (AP)—Rep. John Sanborn, R., Ida., today pledged his support to "any sound development" of Idaho, whether public or private but reiterated opposition to a Columbia valley authority.

Responding to a published request from F. M. Bistline of Pocatello, Democratic national committeeman, for an expansion of his views on a CVA, Sanborn said in a statement:

"I am willing and anxious to help in any sound development of Idaho, both public and private, whether for reclamation, power, industry or for any other betterment. I am opposed to a CVA because I believe it is not in the best interest of the people of Idaho, of the people of the northwest or of the people of the United States.

"Its powers are too broad and too far removed from control of the people. It is monopolistic, and slightly controlled monopoly is bad wherever you find it. Under it (CVA), the more populous sections of the coast could dictate the development of Idaho and destroy the effectiveness of her state lines. It offers develop-

Monroe's Old Doctrine Said West's 'Plan'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Truman described the Monroe doctrine today as the "Marshall plan" for the western hemisphere.

He gave this description to a news conference when asked for comment on reports that Latin-American nations want a Marshall plan for this hemisphere similar to the one envisoned for Europe.

(Advanced by Secretary of State Marshall, the so-called Marshall plan contemplates that European nations will agree on a general plan for economic recovery and that the United States will do what it can to help them carry it out.)

There is a Marshall plan for the western hemisphere which has been in effect for a century and a half, Mr. Truman said. That is the Monroe doctrine, he added.

MARSHALL ARRIVES

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 14 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall landed today at the Ponta Do Galeao military airbase for tomorrow's opening of the inter-American conference on hemisphere defense.

Delegates eagerly awaited his reaction to an Argentine proposal to include economic matters in the talks.

Diplomats have anticipated that the Argentine proposal, made in brief yesterday, may develop into a demand for a "Marshall plan" for the western hemisphere like that in the making for Europe.

Inquiry for Steel Shortages Slated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Chairman Edward Martin, R., Pa., said today his senate steel investigating subcommittee will look into charges that the steel industry has failed to expand its productive capacity and has discriminated against small manufacturers.

The former Pennsylvania governor revealed he has asked CIO President Philip Murray and Otis Brubaker, research director of the CIO United Steel Workers to meet with the subcommittee on Sept. 11.

General Price Dip Predicted Soon by Bank Group Chief

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Representative Wolcott, R., Mich., asserted today that "a general price decline" is in the offing as he expressed opposition to restoration of price controls, with the possible exception of controls on rents. Chairman of the house banking committee, Wolcott is regarded as spokesman for many house Republicans on price and rental matters.

"It would be a grave mistake to put price controls back on again," Wolcott told a reporter. "That would slow up production, and we must have production if we are to lick inflation." He added that he believed inflation has "reached its peak and we are reaching the saturation point. A general price decline is coming."

Earlier Senator O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., told reporters the investigation into prices of food, clothing and housing ordered by Attorney General Clark is a "fine thing" but that "the causes of inflation are much deeper than a search for extortionate profits."

"Private Rationing" Charged

He said congress must choose between "unrestrained" an intelligent program of stimulating production" and continuing to allow "private rationing" of such products as automobiles, gasoline and steel.

Wolcott suggested that the United States "slow down" on buying for foreign accounts until the needs of the home market have been met. Continued purchases for foreign use, he claimed, are one of the reasons for prevailing high prices.

Resistant Varieties Of Beans Discussed

How to develop disease resistant beans without sacrificing economic and other considerations keynoted first discussions of the Western Bean conference opening in Twin Falls Thursday.

Experts representing federal, state and commercial research agencies from throughout the west, as well as those from as far away as Connecticut, South Carolina and Maryland, are participating in the conference, previously held in Colorado. About 100 were present for the opening session in the district court room, with additional delegates expected to arrive later Thursday.

Two "round-table" discussions during the morning meeting, with Dr. K. H. Kiages of the University of Idaho as chairman, focused attention on bean diseases and breeding. Emphasis rested on importance of developing disease resistant beans without sacrificing production, quality and other commercial requirements. Stressed was the need for research correlated with the realistic demands of the workaday world.

The first panel to appear was headed by Dr. C. W. Hungerford of the University of Idaho, who introduced members participating. Dr. Hungerford announced the release soon of two new Great Northern varieties resistant to curly top, common bean mosaic and new type mosaic. He pointed out that U. of I. 15 is resistant to curly top, but not to new mosaic, while U. of I 123, 81 and 82 are susceptible to curly top.

Crudest Type Interference Laid to U. S.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 14 (U.P.)—Russia, accusing the United States of "the crudest form of interference" in Greek internal affairs, served notice in the United Nations security council today that she would veto the new American and Australian proposals for a U. N. border watch in the troubled Balkans.

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko struck back at the latest proposals of the western countries with a lashing attack on the Truman doctrine and the once-vetoed American attempt to install permanent U. N. observers along the Greek frontier.

Gromyko said "foreign interference" from the west was fanning flames in northeastern Europe. All the world knows who is really interfering" in Greece, he said.

Drops "Diplomatic" Talk

"The crudest interference into the internal affairs of Greece emanates at present from the United States," Gromyko said. It was the first time the Soviet delegate abandoned the diplomatic custom of not naming the country being attacked, although he has attacked the Truman program of aid to Greece several times.

Gromyko emphasized that Russia never could accept proposals for installing border observers in Greece. Both the United States and Australia have submitted resolutions branding the dispute between Greece and Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia a threat to world peace.

No Charge Is Filed Against Jailed Driver

Formal charges of drunken driving against Calvin E. Wilson had not been filed early Thursday afternoon, but he is being held in the Twin Falls city jail pending charges and arrival of federal parole officers.

Wilson was arrested Tuesday night by city police after allegedly making an attempt to escape in his automobile. He was on parole from a federal institution at the time of his arrest, Chief of Police Howard W. Gillette said.

Posts Bond

Meanwhile, one more person posted bond after a ticket was given him Monday night in the traffic safety lane held in Twin Falls. M. O. Barlow posted bond of $3 on charges of not having proper lights on his auto. Seventeen other persons had posted similar bonds earlier in connection with the safety lane which was part of the Twin Falls county drive against traffic violators and defects which lead to accidents.

Two accidents were reported Wednesday by car owners who told police other vehicles had been backed into their autos.

Crash at Park

Mrs. J. M. Blakely, route two, reported a car driven by Kyle Waite had backed into her car at Harmon park and damaged a front fender.

Linard Lingnaw, 252 Van Buren street, told Twin Falls city police that a Jerome Co-operative creamery truck had damaged the left front fender of his machine when the truck was backed into his car in front of the creamery. Driver of the truck was not named in the report.

Police made no investigations of the accidents.

Greece Forces Open Drive on Guerrilla Band

ATHENS, Aug. 14 (U.P.) — The Greek army began a major attack today against guerrilla forces in the Mount Grammos sector of northern Greece, military sources reported.

Aircraft were reported backing up Greek ground forces.

The drive was directed against the mountain stronghold from which guerrillas have made frequent forays.

Many of the guerrillas which recently attacked northern Greece from Albania fled into the mountains when they encountered government forces.

U. S. WAIVES CLAIMS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (U.P.)—The United States today agreed to waive claims against Italy totaling about $1,000,000,000.

Truman Gives Okay to Price Inquiry Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Truman expressed his personal support today of the justice department's investigation of the high cost of food, clothing and housing.

He said he hopes it will produce results and he thinks it will. But he told a news conference, in reply to a question, that he believes the principal effect will be to point to those responsible for high prices rather than to check the spiral.

"Await Results"

Asked whether he believed anti-trust violations are responsible for the hike in prices, he replied the results of the inquiry will have to be awaited on that.

In answer to a question whether exports of corn will have to be curtailed due to the shortage, he said it is a matter for study by the cabinet world food committee.

Wide Topic Range

The news conference covered a wide range of other questions:

V-J day—Mr. Truman said he anticipated when he signed the proclamation ending hostilities with Japan two years ago, that warring nations would have arrived at a peaceful settlement by this time, but he regrets that that has not been so.

As for contentions that the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima was unnecessary, he said he regretted he had to make the decision to drop the bomb but he still believes it was necessary and he believes it possibly saved another 250,000 American lives.

V-J Day Two Years Later--Lasting Peace Still a Remote Promise as Tension Grips the Globe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (U.P.) — Two years ago today—at 7 p. m., EDT — President Truman proclaimed Japan's unconditional surrender. The conflict of all wars—in terms of human lives, as well as resources and money—was at an end.

In the first flush of victory, the world looked at the dawn of peace and saw great promise. Today the promise remains unfulfilled.

There is yet no real peace. Instead, there is shooting and dying—in Greece and China. There is trouble in Burma and Palestine. There is tension in the Balkans, in Korea, in India and in all the major capitals of the world.

There are no peace treaties with Japan or Germany. There is talk of peace treaties. But this talk got nowhere on a German pact. There is talk now of getting together for a discussion of a Japanese peace treaty, but even that talk is off to a slow start.

There is misery and starvation in Europe and Asia. Food rationing in many countries is stricter now than during the war.

In the United States, the last vestige of wartime food rationing disappeared two months ago when sugar was eliminated from the ration list. In the United States, too, the dream of 60,000,000 jobs has been realized—at least temporarily—and the nation is enjoying what President Truman recently called "unprecedented prosperity."

But many of the peoples of the world share one thing: the fear and uncertainty of the future.

The chief source of that fear is the atomic bomb, stemming from failure of world statesmen to agree on a program for controlling this vast cosmic power. It has influenced virtually all major deliberations.

Another great fear—an ideological one—grips the world. The western powers fear the spread of communism; Russia and her satellites fear "the capitalistic system."

Concern over communism reached a high point last March when President Truman evolved an historic new U. S. foreign policy, since come to be known as "the Truman doctrine." Basically, this calls for restraining communism by aiding any country threatened with aggression. The doctrine became an actuality in the congress-approved plan to aid Turkey and Greece.

The magnificent military might that brought victory for the United States on two far-flung fronts has evaporated. The U. S. navy, two years ago greater than all other navies of the world combined, has dwindled from a force of 1,300 fighting ships and 3,391,632 officers and enlisted men to one of 306 fighting ships and 471,000 officers and enlisted men.

The marine corps of 521,442 which slugged its way to victory from Guadalcanal to Iwo Jima is down to 99,200 strong now.

The great citizens' army of 8,023,000 as of V-J day is now but 900,000. The Pacific army force of 1,459,000 has faded to 250,000.

The army air forces—once an awesome aerial juggernaut of 80,000 planes and 2,350,000 men—now is a comparatively puny aggregation of 310,000 men and 10,000 first line planes, many of them immobilized for lack of trained personnel.

Many of the military leaders who fashioned victory are gone from the scene—either dead or retired. Dead are Gen. George S. Patton of "blood and guts" fame; Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell, wartime commander of the China-Burma-India theater; Gen. Alexander M. Patch, who led the mop-up campaign on Guadalcanal and directed the seventh army in France; Vice-Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, commander of the almost-legendary task force 58; Vice-Adm. John S. McCain, commander of task force 38; Marine Gen. Roy S. Geiger, who took command of the fighting on Okinawa after Army Lieut.-Gen. Simon B. Buckner was killed in action, and Marine Brig.-Gen. Evans E. Carlson of the famed Carlson raiders in the battle of Makin island.

Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey, Jr., the one-man scourge of the Japanese navy, has retired. So have Gen. H. H. Arnold, wartime chief of the army air forces; Adm. Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations and commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, and Gen. Walter Krueger, commander of the sixth army in the Pacific.

Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, who survived four years of Japanese captivity after his pitifully small but heroic band of defenders was forced to give up Bataan and Corregidor, will retire Aug. 31. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the supreme allied commander in western Europe, steps out as army chief of staff Jan. 1 to become president of Columbia university.

Gen. George C. Marshall, who built the mightiest army in American history and blueprinted the army's triumphs as wartime chief of staff, now is struggling desperately to win the peace in his role as secretary of state.

After trying—but failing—to lay the groundwork for a German peace treaty at the Moscow conference of foreign ministers last spring, Marshall devised a plan for economic rehabilitation of Europe. Russia rejected it and vetoed a new proposal to aid European satellites. Western powers have pushed ahead without Russia.

Turning to [illegible] Douglas MacArthur is supreme allied [illegible] Pacific—Marshall last month invited representatives of the 10 other nations on the far eastern commission to begin preliminary Japanese treaty talks here or in San Francisco Aug. 19.

Hit the proposal encountered a double-stumbling block. The [illegible] Jo[illegible] have a meeting [illegible] —and Aug. 19 [illegible] foreclosed any [illegible] ing discussions.

He's Opposed To CVA Plan, Sanborn Says

ment at the risk of creating a socialistic state. The people of Idaho want development, but I believe they want development to the full as becomes free people."

Sanborn said a quotation from his original statement, as repeated by Bistline, deleted reference to water. He said the original quotation read:

"The establishment of a CVA is not the answer. The people of Idaho would lose to the more populous sections of the northwest, their control of water and power developments."

Bistline had criticized Sanborn for not getting money for construction of a power line from the Columbia river system to eastern Idaho phosphate deposits.

"Water," Sanborn said today, "is the most important word in the quotation because water is the lifeblood of southern Idaho farming and community life. He (Bistline) must consider the question of power development so superior to irrigation that he would ignore the latter entirely. He surely must realize that, without our irrigated areas, very little power would be necessary in southern Idaho. He should also know that, if the power needs of southern Idaho are filled from Bonneville (Columbia river power), even though the transmission line is long and extremely expensive, the outlet for new power that might be developed locally has been satisfied.

"Without a market for the local power, our contemplated irrigation projects, depending on power features for feasibility, would not be built. For these reasons, I have opposed spending $20,000,000 or more for a Bonneville power line into southern Idaho, while we have multiple purpose projects carrying power, reclamation and flood control features still to build. It is far better in my judgment, to try to secure that huge sum of money for local development."

Sanborn said he successfully urged appropriations for Anderson dam, which will generate from 30,000 to 45,000 kilowatt hours of public power and voted with Rep. Goff, R., Ida., for extension of Bonneville lines into northern Idaho, "where a different situation exists."

Man Given 2 Weeks to File 'Slot' Answer

WALLACE, Aug. 14 (U.P.)—Leo Disbrow, Burke man who succeeded in getting an injunction to restrain law enforcement officers from prosecuting him for operating slot machines and selling liquor in an unincorporated village has been given until Aug. 21 to file an answer to the state's latest move.

The date was set by Shoshone county District Judge A. M. Featherstone after a hearing here Monday at which time Attorney General Robert Ailshie filed briefs on behalf of the defendants—R. C. Lewis, state commissioner of law enforcement; and Albert Graf, Shoshone county prosecutor. [illegible] to show cause and that the district court has no jurisdiction in the case.

As Ailshie reviewed the case, Disbrow filed the complaint and show-cause order June 25 but the state had no knowledge of the matter until the attorney general's office was served July 5 with Judge Featherstone's restraining order.

Ailshie said his office wired Graf for the remainder of the papers and that on or about July 12 he received from the Shoshone prosecutor certified copies of the complaint, and show-cause order. But Ailshie said he didn't received a summons or affadivit of service.

Anti-Disease Beans Talked At Meet Here

Tests on this problem are not as yet complete.

Threat Related

From Dr. F. P. McWhorter of the U. S. department of agriculture experiment station, Oregon, came the information that yellow bean mosaic is a serious threat in this area this year. Research shows this disease is carried by the gladiola plants in Oregon.

Dr. McWhorter expressed the opinion that alfalfa may also be a carrier, as well as certain clovers.

Others appearing on this panel included Dr. W. J. Zaumeyer, USDA, Beltsville, Md.; and B. F. Dana, USDA, Oregon.

Next phase of the program was devoted to breeding, with Don Murphy and Bill Hemingway, representing local commercial seed companies, as leaders.

Objectives Needed

First to speak was Dr. M. E. Anderson, Idaho Falls, who pointed out that breeding must be directed at other objectives, besides disease resistance, such as adaptability to various environments, meeting consumer demands and other requirements.

Dr. R. D. Watson of the University of Idaho plant pathology department, sketched briefly the work done there during the past 20 years.

"There is no substitute for good farming, as it must go hand in hand with breeding," declared Dr. B. L. Wade, director of the U. S. regional vegetable breeding laboratory, Charleston, S. C., in his discussion.

Multiple Problem

Of breeding he said, "it is a multiple problem. It must not only be directed at developing resistance to disease, but a lot of resistance to a lot of diseases. Also it must be aimed at numerous other goals—one of which is what I would call 'resistance to prejudice' among buyers."

Dr. Floyd Winter of New Haven, Conn., presented the problem from the perspective of commercial bean houses, which, to stay in business, must meet the public tastes, even though it creates much artificiality in breeding. He criticized, however, the tendency to create many new varieties, and urged, instead, emphasis upon maintaining of present good strains that need to be strengthened.

Local Problem

Co-leader Hemingway in his remarks said, "The looming problems in the Twin Falls area are those of disease in production of snap bean seed."

"First we have curly top. Can we supplant some 25 or 30 varieties of snap beans with varieties that will have resistance to this disease?" he asked.

In closing, he outlined other problems of the seedman plant breeder, calling for experimental work as the solution.

Also speaking briefly was Dr. Robert Mitchell, seed company representative from Moscow.

Insect pests, seed laws and bean certification were being discussed Thursday afternoon before the annual fish fry at 3:30 p. m. at Clear Lakes.

Dr. H. C. Manis, university entomologist, was scheduled to lead discussions of insect pests by four USDA representatives, Dr. J. R. Douglas, Twin Falls; Dr. M. C. Lane and Dr. W. C. Cook, both of Walla Walla, Wash.; and Dr. Joe Chamberlain, Forest Grove, Ore.

Seed laws were to be explained by W. D. Hay of the FMA federal-state seed laboratory at Sacramento, Calif. Carl Blackburn of the Idaho Crop Improvement association at Boise discusses bean certification.

Th begin Friday morning are organized field trips to inspect commercial bean fields, seed fields and trial grounds. Trial plots of the University of Idaho, Cornelli Seed company and Washington Wilson Seed company will be viewed before lunch with the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce Friday noon. The Jerome and Hazelton area will be toured Friday afternoon.

Scheduled for Saturday morning are inspections of fields at Clover and Buhl, University of Idaho plots west of Buhl. The conference will be brought to a close Saturday noon with a luncheon meeting to be held with the Buhl Chamber of Commerce.

Does Old Car Disgust You? Not This Guy

an extra puff on his cigar and said he'd "lost" a couple of cars by setting the price too low, so on this one it was a cool $10,000.

Forgetting himself for a moment and sounding almost like an automobile salesman, he pointed out that he was only the second owner, as he bought it from the original purchaser after quite a little finagling. Then he went to work on it, as it had been sitting in a shed that was filled with snow in winter and chickens in summer.

He must have done a thorough job inside as well as out, because the car stopped only twice on the way out to California—once when one of the 43x8, 65-pounds-of-pressure tires blew out and then again when they stripped a tooth off a gear.

Asked how they got hold of another gear, Gault said they didn't. "We just did the next best thing and welded it back on," he said.

Mrs. Gault, who was rather noncommittal, except to squeeze the rubber bulb that blows the horn when she wanted to catch her husband's eye with a "Well, let's be on our way" glance after he became deluged in a sea of spectators, mentioned that one big advantage of the car is that you're so high up you can see the country better.

The Times-News writer who rode down Main avenue with the Gaults en route to the newspaper office to take a picture of the merry Oldsmobile and its merry crew, found out what she was talking about.

Perched on the front seat, he felt an urge to duck every time the car passed under an overhead stop-and-go light.

Also, for the first time in his life, he could sit in a private car and stare a passing bus driver in the eye.

That is riding in class.

22 Sentenced To Hang for War Crimes

DACHAU, Germany, Aug. 14 (AP)—An American war crimes court today sentenced 22 Buchenwald concentration camp attendants to hang for atrocities committed against inmates during the nazi regime.

Five others were sentenced to life imprisonment, among them Frau Ilse Koch, widow of the former Buchenwald commandant, who is expected to give birth next month to a baby conceived while a prisoner.

One defendant was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment, two to 15 years and one to 10 years.

Convicted Tuesday

The 31 defendants were convicted Tuesday after a four-months trial.

More than 50,000 prisoners died in the notorious camp, which was situated on the outskirts of Weimar, a quiet town in Thuringia province famed as the residence of the German poet Goethe.

Most of the defendants received their sentences with outward calm.

A doctor was in attendance for Frau Koch, because of her advanced pregnacy. The hard-faced, red-haired widow, who allegedly shared the camp rule with her commandant husband, was accused of having prisoners killed so she could make lamp shades, purses and book bindings out of their tatooed skin.

Nazis Executed Husband

She tried unsuccessfully to escape trial because of her pregnancy, which has never been officially explained. Her husband was executed by the nazis several years ago.

After the German surrender, the late Lieut-Gen. George S. Patton, jr., forced groups of German civilians to view the scenes of horror which American troops found in the camp in order to impress upon them the immensity of the crimes committed by their nazi leaders.

The camp is now in the Russian-occupied zone of Germany.

Record Entry Reported for Horses Event

Officials of the fourth annual Magic Valley Horse show were busy Thursday assigning numbers to the 107 horses already entered for the three-night event which opens in Twin Falls Aug. 21.

A major problem—which is being rapidly met — is finding sufficient stall space for the record number of entries.

C. R. Nelson, general chairman, declared the show is attracting some of the best horses in the intermountain west and predicted the exhibit will far surpass past years.

Entries are continuing to trickle in during the extension of the deadline for filing. Originally the closing date was Tuesday, but it was extended to Saturday.

Twelve classes will be exhibited each night with the winners participating in the $5,000 in prizes. Besides cash awards, first place winners will find trophies, ribbons or special prizes awaiting them.

Secretary J. E. White reported the show will find entries from four states competing. Besides the large entry list from the Magic Valley and other Idaho points, cities in Utah, Montana and Nevada are represented.

Secretary White announced that reserved seats would go on sale Saturday at the Sporter in Twin Falls.

Meanwhile, arrival of the various trophies to be offered in the show is expected. They will be placed on exhibit first at the Sporter. Then the more than 40 cups will be scattered in various exhibits planned by Twin Falls merchants.

Moviemakers Hit British Film Tax

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (U.P.)—The Motion Picture Association of America charged today that the new 75 per cent British tax on U. S. movies is a clear violation of three anglo-American pacts.

In a brief filed with the state and treasury departments, the association said the tax would deal "a serious blow to the high hopes for international trade and commerce in the postwar world."

Britain decided to impose the tax as a means of conserving her dwindling supply of dollars. The money would come out of American earnings on the films. The U. S. movie industry promptly retaliated by banning all American films from Britain.

OFFICER STRESSES COURTESY

Our attention has been called to a guest editorial by Capt. Charles C. Cook of the Pennsylvania state police, which appeared recently in the Bethlehem Globe-Times.

J. J. Mullen, formerly managing editor of the Times-News and now an instructor at Lehigh university, has suggested that Captain Cook's editorial might be reproduced as a timely contribution to our local traffic campaign. The editorial follows, almost in its entirety:

With each succeeding year bringing further increases in our motor fatalities, countless thousands of words have been written—and spoken—in an effort to stem the rising tide. Many persons have a pet theory which, if adopted, they "know" would reverse the rising toll of death and injury. Some would establish driving schools for youths and adults; some would increase enforcement and severity in dealing with infractions; others would raise the legal driving age; and still others advocate periodic re-examination of operators.

Competent authorities in the field of highway safety stress the three E's—Education, Engineering and Enforcement. The state compels semi-annual inspection of mechanical equipment. All these ideas are good, and yet death and injuries continue to mount! Obviously no one single thing we do can reverse the lethal trend. At not one spot, then, can we place our finger and say, "Here is the trouble—correct this and all will be well!"

Is our desire to decrease our highway carnage, therefore, a forlorn hope? Must we admit a defeatist attitude or a negative approach? No! Of course not! Is there any one thing that all can do that will help? Something that requires no special "learning" or equipment, something readily available to all, something within the financial reach of every motorist and something that will never be left in the garage? Yes! That something is Courtesy. C-O-U-R-T-E-S-Y.

Each month the local troop of state police receives from headquarters a recapitulation of accidents for the same month for the preceding year. Upon these facts our highway coverage as to place and time is predicated. Month after month it is revealed that the following are the three main causes of our accidents: (1) Driving too fast for conditions; (2) Driving to the left of center; (3) Failure to yield right of way.

Further, the incidence of such violations occurs in the following order: (1) Sunday, (2) Saturday, (3) Friday.

Now, the point that I'm attempting to make is this: Each one of the three violations noted above are violations which COULD NOT occur if we as drivers were courteous! Please glance once again at those offenses. Now don't you agree that they are offenses committed by a discourteous driver? Again, note the days on which the offenses occur—the days when most of our motorists take to the highway over the week-end.

Many of the accidents of the first category are caused by that acme of discourtesy—the Sunday driver who dawdles along bottling up traffic, utterly indifferent and oblivious to everything! I suppose every policeman and motorist has had more than his fair share of experience with this road hog. He is the bane of existence and more to be feared than the speed demon—because he is the root of so much additional trouble.

As I see the problem, I believe our greatest hope lies in courtesy. I believe it possible to make the motoring public understand the necessity of courtesy. To understand that, therein lies our salvation.

INFLATION RIDES THE RODS

Railroad executives fear that they're going to be hit harder by the new John L. Lewis coal wage contract than anybody else. Railroads are the number one coal consumer of the country and the number two steel consumer, being second only to the auto industry.

Now being arbitrated is a wage demand on railroad management for a 20 per cent increase for the 17 non-operating brotherhoods. If granted in full, it would cost the roads $524,000,000 a year, plus $46,000,000 in social security taxes.

Railroads now have pending before the ICC requests for freight rate increases of 25 per cent for the eastern roads, 15 per cent for south and west. This is to cover past wage increases.

GOVERNMENT GIVES UP

It is not a common practice with the forces of justice to dismiss action against lawbreakers because the law-breakers are hard to catch. But that is the excuse given for Attorney General Clark's action in giving up on draft dodgers who escaped arrest by giving false names and addresses.

The clear implication is that the government's pursuit of those who evaded their duty by criminal means was just an act of wartime hysteria. Now that the war has been won, at the cost of more than 200,000 American lives and hundreds of thousands more crippled bodies, the criminal cowardliness of the boys who hid out apparently isn't so important.

"Washington Calling" By Marquis Childs

For nearly 75 years the federal government has been trying to regulate transportation. The effort at regulation began when the railroads struck out across state boundaries and the interstate commerce commission eventually came into being to police them.

Marquis Childs

Subsequently, other commissions have tried to cope with even faster forms of travel. A glance at the record will not encourage those who champion the principle of regulation in the interest of fair competition and reasonable rates.

What happens is that gradually within the bureaucracy intended to do the regulating job a set of vested interests grows up. The interest of the railroads, the airlines, the steamship lines comes to seem identical with the public interest. Sometimes, to be sure, it is. But often the private interest is directly contrary to what is required by the public good.

Two dreary examples are conspicuous at the moment. One is the maritime commission. It is a cumberson, weary bureaucracy that seems to exist merely to ratify the decisions taken by the steamship lines.

This is pointed up by an action which has just come up for hearing before the commission. Wallace Howland, head of the department of justice's antitrust office in San Francisco, has brought a charge of monopoly against a group of shipping companies on the Pacific coast.

Under a rate agreement by the companies, it is charged, shippers are compelled to sign a uniform contract. If they do not sign, they must pay a higher rate.

The anti-trust action has caused a tremendous stir in shipping circles. That is because similar rate agreements cover the companies operating out of other ports. What is done here, it would seem, with the blessing of the maritime commission.

It is a bonanza for foreign shipping companies. They come in under the rate umbrella, too, and because they pay their seamen much less than we pay ours, their profits are huge.

If the commission should find that the Pacific companies were enforcing monopoly rates, it would cause profound repercussions throughout the shipping industry. Should the commission rule against the department of justice, then the department could take independent action in the courts. Whether this is done will be decided after the commission acts.

The second example of decline and decay is the civil aeronautics board. The recently appointed chairman, James M. Landis, is trying to shake up the CAB, but thus far he has not been conspicuously successful. The dominant interests in the aviation industry are not so firmly entrenched in this bureaucracy, since it is comparatively new.

There are many obvious reasons why the effort to regulate a powerful industry should be difficult or impossible. To begin with, the men who sit on the government side of the table are paid far less than the men who want to circumvent or change the regulations in their own interest. Over and over again, when a bright young man has learned his way around on the government side, he is persuaded by a much larger salary to move over onto the industry side.

Too often political has-beens are appointed to the commissions. A commission appointment is regarded as a political plum. This makes for ignorance and incompetence at the top level.

But there is another and even more important reason why the effort is so feeble. You can't Balkanize the transportation industry in this day and age. The separation of ocean, rail and air under separate commissions is purely arbitrary. They all compete with one another.

The urgent need is for an over-all commission or department with powers over all transportation. To do this would mean cutting through the jungle of bureaucracy. It would mean a saving of government money and the chance of really efficient and effective regulation.

Whether this will ever happen is anyone's guess. Powerful forces both in government and in industry find the present system all too convenient.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

ZYMOTECHNOLOGISTS

The St. Louis Star-Times says that it has been worried for a long time over lack of a more dignified name for the many honest and excellent brewers of the brewian city of Missouri.

They are, continues the Times-Star, "honorable men engaged in a calling which we consider on a par with —indeed, even higher than—many another." They are, it avers, equally as much entitled to the personal and professional dignity that has been taken over by undertakers becoming morticians, by tinsmiths becoming professors, by floorwalkers becoming aisle managers, by hairdressers becoming beauticians, and so on.

It was just about ready to admit the problem as unsolvable when it came upon one of Ivor Brown's word books from which it learned that brewing is zymurgy (from zyme, meaning fermentation). So why not, it asks, zymotechnicians, or—if a majority prefers—zymurgeons?

It would be a fascinating solution of the problem if the formal lexicographers had not beat the St. Louis newspaper to it by many years. The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia (supplement circa 1911) lists zymotechnologist as one who is versed in zymotechnology, and zymotechnology as the same as zymurgy.

Here is a fine, sonorous word for brewer that has been kicking around, noncopyrighted, for a least thirty-six years.

Don't the St. Louis breweries employ press agents—or—public relations men to comb the tomes for slogan ideas? "The Beer That's Brewed by Zymotechnologists" leaps to the mind. What a neglected opportunity.—The Oregonian.

WHITE NUGGETS

"Egg money" has long been a standard phrase among farm housewives. The term means that the lady of the house has been dispensing eggs on a small basis while her husband nurtures the regular crops. A small flock of chickens, a few hours a week on any farm could easily fill the old cream pitcher sitting on the shelf above the sink. From this pitcher's contents many a new hat or magazine subscription came.

Or that's the way it used to be.

Judging from the way egg prices are headed, that small hen house might become a financial enterprise. Lewiston egg dealers reported Wednesday that egg prices are "headed for the stratosphere," due to the high cost of feed which caused the sale of many flocks. Prices zoomed three cents in as many days, and indications are that they will go even higher.

A farm housewife who has retained her chickens through the thin years can now discard the old cream pitcher and open a bank account. Until egg prices settle down, it's going to be a good business and every time a hen makes good the result can be counted, in some ways, as a nugget.—Lewiston Tribune.

WAR BY ANY OTHER NAME

What burns us about the unification of the armed forces, in spite of our celebration of the achievement itself, is the name under which the consolidation takes place. We are doomed permanently, it appears, to use the term "department of defense" for what will be in fact the "department of war."

It is a concession to the supposedly sensitive feelings of a portion of the people, and it is a hypocrisy that irritates us deeply.

Of course, there is the complicating fact that under the old organization the duties of the secretary of war were confined to army activities. However, this should have been more than offset by the silly experience we had with use of the word "defense." The country started out selling "defense bonds," but when the bullets started flying there was immediate realization that offense is the best defense. One didn't hear anything more of defense bonds, only of "victory bonds." And if we do get into another shooting war, the country will regret, psychologically, the hypocritical naming of its war department.—Portland Oregonian.

Telling them something they want to hear is the easiest way to make people believe you.

POT SHOTS

BODY DEPT

Dear Pot Shots:

I took a quick peak in the new Twin Falls telephone directory and called number 2005. The gent answered and I asked: "Is this the body and paint department of the Twin Falls mortuary?"

"Yep," he replied, and started to laugh.

He, too, had noticed on page 71 of the new telephone book the following entries:

"Twin Falls mortuary 31
Body and Paint dept. 2005
Truck dept. .....2006"

Pretty good, the mortuary having separate telephone service for their bodies.

DOUBLE DOUBLE-CROSS

Dear Mr. Potso:

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen, over Filer way, had decided their expected baby was going to be a daughter. Harvey, especially, had his mind made up that the new arrival was going to be a girl, so there!

Monday, Harvey was a-pacin' up and down at the hospital maternity home. Finally it was all over and a nurse gave Harvey a glimpse of the new offspring.

It was twins—both boys!

JUSTICE

Potso:

Justice was done!

The other day I went into Wray's cafe, which is located directly under the Perrine hotel, for the morning cup of java. All of a sudden a flood of water came down from the ceiling as some of the plumbing in the hotel went askew.

But the justice came when it dripped right down on the head of the hotel's day clerk.

WANTS 'EM SHORT

Dear Pots:

Who's the stodgy old gal who wants to wear her dresses halfway between her ankles and knees? Let her wear 'em down to the ground if she's got an awful pair of gams to hide, but let the cute chicks with the shapely pins continue to wear 'em short.

Aren't the gals out to catch their men? How can they do it if they hide the bait?

IMPORTANT

Here's one the telegraph editor tossed over to Pot Shots' cluttered desk:

EVANSTON, Ill., (AP)—The human body—once valued chemically at 98 cents—today is worth $31.04 on the current inflationary market, so says the curator of the Northwestern university department of chemistry.

Curator Nick Dallas made the estimate today on the basis of what Northwestern has to pay for the same chemical compounds that are present in the human body.

Example: Calcium phosphate which, Dallas says, "used to go begging" now retails for $5 a pound. The normal body content is 3.8 pounds.

Gives you sort of a proud feeling, doesn't it?

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—Elliott Roosevelt has declaimed an emotional denial that he ever used his father's influence to get contracts for the Hughes company, which paid more than $1,400 of the expenses of his third wedding.

He said substantially the same thing shortly after his father died, when the fact was disclosed that, with the old man's connivance and help, he had chiseled $300,000 from John Hartford. In the same season of good hunting he took $50,000 from David G. Baird and $25,000 from Charles Harwood.

Westbrook Pegler

Harwood frankly expected Roosevelt pere to make him a judge of the United States district court. Elliott dead-beat most of this total of $275,000, but Harwood couldn't be gypped. Elliott's old man didn't come through with the judicial job and old Charlie refused to give up his collateral.

At the time of this revelation, Elliott Roosevelt was a brigadier general. He then hurried out of the army before the war with Japan ended, rather than try to reconcile his default of his just debts with military law.

However, he might not have been tried because the Roosevelt brass was still mighty and a Democratic congress was doggedly concealing corruption which only now is beginning to come out.

In the present instance, Elliott says his promotion to brigadier was rejected twice by General Marshall, then chief of staff, after it had been recommended by Generals Spaats and Eisenhower. He was temporarily turned down, said he, because "it was unusual for a man to have as rapid a rise and because I was the son of the President."

It was not merely unusual but disgraceful that such a man should rise to the rank of brigadier in a highly technical and scientific branch in view of the fact that he had barely the equal of a patched-up and pieced out high-school education.

He was a long-division boy in a league of astral physics and he was not a qualified military pilot. Spaats and Eisenhower were jumped from colonel and lieutenant-colonel respectively to the dazzling ranks of full general and general of the armies.

Roosevelt was good to officers who pleased him but vindictive to men who refused to adjust their professional judgments and their ethics to his. Admiral J. O. Richardson was canned from command of the Pacific fleet because he foretold Roosevelt that it was suicidal to base the fleet at Pearl Harbor and, in effect, told this Bathtub Nelson that he was just a mama's boy splashing about with celluloid ducks under the eye of his nurse.

In his book, "As He Saw It," by which Elliott exploited his relationship to the election returns for another $50,000 in royalties, the young toxspot boasts, between accounts of drunken brawls of the gods of war, that he personally got the legion of merit for Eisenhower.

He put the idea in his old man's head and was delegated to see that General Bedell Smith drew up a citation—"North African campaign, Sicilian campaign, all that"—as the President casually put it to his cub.

On the very next page he is back again on topic A, booze. There he reports that eight navy chief cooks and stewards had turned up at Cairo and that "I was not needed to fill any more glasses for those that wanted a drink."

It could have meant little to Spaats and Eisenhower to recommend this hard-drinking young master of moochery and household politics for a rank in which he was so unimportant that his could be spared for historic debauchery in Cairo and Teheran and long spells of "relaxation," as he calls his pub-crawling, in New York, Washington and Hollywood.

Meanwhile, the young pilots who flew the lone missions and in many cases, went down, lived in comparative squalor and never got home to "relax." Spaats and Eisenhower would have courted trouble had they refused to recommend the promotion. It will be observed that General Marshall did not persist in his belief that this promotion would embarrass the President but gracefully gave in.

The menial officers who vindicated Roosevelt and Marshall and lynched Kimmel and Short in the inquiries after Pearl Harbor went up to dizzy heights notwithstanding the grievous guilt of some of them.

Almost immediately after the disclosure of the gyp of John Hartford who was finally trimmed of $186,000 by Elliott and then bilked of his collateral by the old man on false representations that the stock was worthless, Elliott's counsel turned out a press release which said that any statement that his father ever had "promoted or assisted" in any of his shady financial dealings was "a deliberate, infamous lie."

His lawyer at that time was Randolph Paul, a new dealer, who had been general counsel of the U. S. treasury. Elliott had a new mouthpiece at the current senatorial inquiry into the cheesecake social life of the tarnished brass in Hollywood.

Mr. Paul may have been misled by Elliott but, at any rate, it was absolutely proved that President Roosevelt did bird-dog John Hartford like any underworld chumphustler along Broadway, and personally rigged the scheme to gyp Hartford of his security and turned it over to Elliott's divorced wife for alimony.

A few days later it was further shown that Elliott arranged a dinner party with his parents at the White House for Hill Blackett, a Chicago advertising man, whom Elliott was pestering for business for his rattletrap radio network. Blackett said, "I assume the reason I was invited was business. Like, you know what I mean. I don't have to spell it out for you. I have been entertained by lots of people who wanted business."

In still another job of White House racketeering, Elliott wrote Steve Early, the old man's secretary, to defer decision on an important public utility case in Texas until he, Elliott, could come to Washington because he was "genuinely and personally interested in this thing." This is in the senate record.

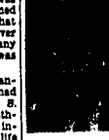

In a big theatrical scene, Elliott seems to have been taking lessons from his current wife, an actress, in the art of chewing the scenery. "Because of the affection I bore him (meaning the old con-man) I will fight to the death to protect his name and his record," he said.

That is not even good green corn let alone heavy drammer. For money, he dirtied up his father's name and record irreparably long, long ago. But he needn't take it too hard because if anyone corrupted anyone else, the old man tainted the kid.

BOB HOPE

At a recent railroad industrialists' meeting this earth-shaking statement was made:

America will soon have bumpless trains pulled by jet propelled locomotives — A commuter's dream. These trains are going to be so fast, they won't have cow-catchers. They'll be equipped with antelope trappers. In fact, they're not calling it a "choo - choo." They're referring to it as a "phfft-phfft."

Bob Hope

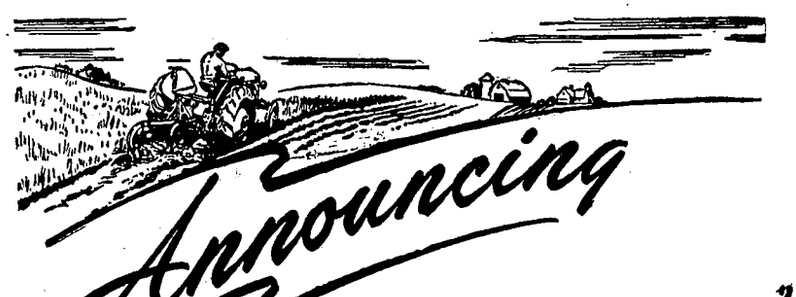

I can just see myself having breakfast in Hollywood, lunch in Chicago and washing dishes in New York. The people on the platform won't get hit with that hot blast of steam from the engine. This train will gently spray them with Chanel No. 5.

Even the hoboes will have it better. They're planning to install a new device that air conditions the axles. They'll even have a special car for frustrated passengers.

They'll just stand around opening and closing windows. There's only one thing that will be annoying on this new train. You'll still have to tip the porters.

Maybe I'm old fashioned, but I think a bumpless train will be too confusing. Can you imagine sitting in the dining car and eating your own meal?

Irrigation for North Greece Set by U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP) — Plans to brave the guerrilla fighting in northern Greece in order to irrigate 800,000 acres of that nation's breadbasket were disclosed last night by William E. Corfitzen, Denver, who will direct the work.

Corfitzen, a reclamation bureau expert, outlined the project in an interview as announcement was made of his designation as irrigation advisor to the American mission which is to carry out a $350,000,000 program of aid to Greece.

Trouble Seen

The lands to be irrigated are near guerrilla lines in Macedonia and Thrace, he said, and some trouble may be caused by the fighting.

Corfitzen said confidently that "we may be able to get water on to parched lands within 60 days from the time we start the rehabilitation, and we should have several thousand acres under irrigation by next July."

$3,600,000 Project

The expenditure for irrigation is limited to $3,600,000 and the project must be completed by July 1. It is part of a plan aimed to help Greek farmers produce for city markets and reduce the nation's food imports, he explained. Now they can harvest, on the average, barely enough for their own families.

Corfitzen said the irrigation task will be restricted to reconstructing two major systems started a decade ago by two American contracting firms but never completed and now fallen into disrepair.

Disclosing this today, the agriculture department said total U. S. production soared to 360,000,000,000 cigarettes, including exports, or nearly twice the pre-war figure.

"Betty" Ignores Extra Milk Unit At Wendell Farm

WENDELL, Aug. 14—When the milker didn't hold all the output of "Betty," a high producing Holstein of the R. W. King herd, King strapped on another milker to speed up the job, and "Betty" didn't raise an eyebrow.

With a record of 21,074 pounds of milk and 633 pounds of butterfat in 314 days of 1946, her production went to 11,566 pounds of milk and 399.5 pounds of butterfat in the first four months after she freshened in 1947. She is one of a Holstein dairy herd of 22 milked at the King farm, and is from the original stock which King brought with him from Indiana in 1920.

The winter of 1945, King and his sons built a new modern barn equipped with all devices for the production of grade A milk. This whole milk is shipped to the Young's dairy of Twin Falls.

'Farm-to-Market' Roads Contracts Slated This Fall

BOISE, Aug. 14 (AP)—E. W. Sinclair, commissioner of public works, told a road delegation from Ucon yesterday that contracts for improving the Ucon-east and other farm-to-market roads in the state will be let this fall if possible, but they may be deferred until next year.

Sinclair said lack of state funds prevented letting the contracts. He reported there were 30 similar projects in the state in which the counties had provided their share. Sinclair said federal money allocated for farm-to-market work would not be lost.

The lack of state funds, Sinclair said, resulted from what he said was the "over-ambitious" letting of contracts by the highway department last fall. The state funds accumulate on a periodical basis from gas tax collections. It may be next year before sufficient money is available for the farm-to-market projects, Sinclair said.

Germans Flee Conscription In Red Zone

ROTENBURG, Hesse, Germany, Aug. 14 (AP)—Increasing streams of Germans assertedly "fleeing" the Russian zone to American-occupied territory of Germany were reported today to be carrying conscription orders to work in Saxony's Soviet-operated uranium mines.

On an inspection trip of agricultural and border areas of the American zone, Dr. James R. Newman, U. S. military governor of Hesse, said he learned an estimated 800 Germans a week pour into the American zone across a 15-mile stretch of the U. S.-Russian zonal frontier near this ancient city.

Military government and German officials in this focal point of illegal traffic between eastern and western Germany said 60 per cent of the Germans arriving here illegally claim they are attempting to "escape" labor conscription.

Two State Forest Fires 'Controlled' After Long Battle

McCALL, Aug. 14 (AP)—A crew of 115 fire fighters was in control today of a blaze that licked through 400 acres of scattered timber and grass land 10 miles north of the Big creek ranger station in the Payette national forest.

Dispatcher Harold Vassar said the crews, which have been struggling for three days, succeeded in corralling the flames last night. There is no wind in the district and there is every indication the lines will hold until the fire subsides, Vassar reported.

Slightly more than 10 acres of a heavy stand of Douglas fir was burned but the rest of the devastated area was mostly rim rock land with only scattered thin stands of white pine.

The fire situation on the Boise national forest continued to improve with no new outbreaks reported today. Skeleton crews were in the final stages of a "mop up" of two blazes that scorched 2,800 acres.

Donald Spencer Paid Last Honor

Funeral services for Donald E. Spencer were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the White mortuary chapel with Bishop Sherman M. Swensen of the LDS church officiating.

Speakers during the ceremony were J. E. Allred and J. W. Richins.

Music included a solo by Clifford Tolman and two selections by quartets, the first made up of the C. L. Luke family and the second composed of R. C. Tolman, Ormus Bates, Merlin Cottle and C. L. Luke.

Pallbearers were Dwaine Burton, Harold Gosney, Vincent Stom, Clair Anderson, Carl Dunn and Cecil Loving.

Military rites at Sunset memorial park were conducted by the American Legion. The color guard and firing squad of the Twin Falls detachment of the national guard participated.

State Police Receive New Type Uniforms

BOISE, Aug. 14 (AP)—Thirty-two of Idaho's 45 state policemen will appear in the state's new uniform issued them yesterday by State Law Enforcement Commissioner R. C. Lewis. The remaining uniforms are expected within a few days.

The uniforms were designed and tailored by H. W. Allinger of Montpelier.

They are made up of a navy blue shirt, a light blue tie, an American blue jacket with matching trousers.

Reckless Driving Costs Autoist $50

JEROME, Aug. 14—Everard Gergen, Hazelton, was fined $50 and costs when he appeared before Probate Judge William G. Comstock on a charge of reckless driving.

Gergen overturned his 1938 Buick three times, demolishing it three miles east of Hazelton Sunday. Ida Price, Hazelton, received minor injuries and was treated at the Twin Falls county general hospital. Gergen escaped injury.

SUMMER RECIPES

Vegetables—just one at a time, or several together, may be cooked in a pressure cooker in a fraction of the time it takes to cook them by other methods. A good thing for hot summer days. Vitamin values will be retained to a greater degree, too, and the vegetables will look more delicious and taste better than ever before. Just a few serving tricks will turn these perfectly cooked vegetables into dinner treats.

New Beets—Suzette Sauce

Two bunches medium sized new beets, A teaspoon salt, ½ cup boiling water, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, grated rind 1 orange, ½ cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Cut off tops of beets, leaving about 1 inch stem. Wash, place in pressure cooker, add salt and water. Seal according to manufacturer' directions, cook over high heat until 15 pounds pressure is reached, then lower heat and cook 10 minutes. Reduce pressure quickly under cold water, open remove beets, slip off skins, and slice or dice. While beets are cooking, place sugar and butter in saucepan and cook until lightly browned. Add grated orange rind and fruit juices. Simmer for a few minutes, add beets to this sauce and mix lightly. Serve sprinkled with chopped fresh mint.

Summer Vegetable Medley

One pound peas, 1 small head cauliflower, 1 medium sized summer squash, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup boiling water, 1 cup light cream, 1 small new onion, 2 tablespoons butter.

Leave skin on summer squash if tender. Cut in 1-inch cubes, removing most of seeds. Separate cauliflower into flowerettes and shell peas. Place vegetables in pressure cooker with water and salt. Seal according to manufacturer's direction and cook over high heat until 15 pounds pressure is reached. Lower heat and cook 1½ minutes. Reduce pressure under cold water quickly. Open cooker and drain vegetables. Peel and dice onion, sauté lightly in the butter. Add sherry wine if desired and simmer 2 minutes, add cream and pour over vegetables. Sprinkle top with fresh grated nutmeg. (Several vegetables may be cooked in pressure cooker at once if they take same cooking time. Some cookers are equipped with dividers for separating vegetables, but this recipe may be used without.)

The couple will make their home in Kimberly.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

How to tell if the restaurant-dining couple at the next table is married:

They're married if—

They come into the restaurant carrying a newspaper as insurance against boredom. As soon as they have ordered, they divide it, the husband getting first look at the front page, of course.

The man pays more attention to the pert waitress than to his companion.

The woman scorns her escort's suggestion as to what might be good, and orders exactly what she wants.

The man is impatient to leave before the woman has finished her second cup of coffee.

They're not married if—

They are absorbed in talk until the menu arrives and then look at it indifferently.

If he makes a suggestion, she is delighted with his selection.

She keeps sneaking looks in her mirror, making sure her lipstick is just right.

When he talks she looks into his eyes, and listens with flattering attention. When she talks he does the same.

They obviously find each other amusing, laughing and smiling at each other's cleverness.

If you notice those small points you won't make many mistakes in spotting married couples, because, alone in a restaurant, married people look just as married as though they had brought the children along.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Blackberries, ready-to-eat cereal, wholewheat toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Vegetable salad, sliced hard cooked eggs, mayonnaise dressing, toasted bran muffins, butter or fortified margarine, custard with fresh berry sauce, tea, milk.

DINNER: Saute of veal chops, parsleyed new potatoes, summer vegetable medley, raw carrot sticks, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, raspberries, sponge cake, coffee, milk.

Social Situations

SITUATION: When shopping in a store with a companion you feel that the salesperson is either rude or inefficient and you are annoyed.

WRONG WAY: Make a remark to your companion about the poor service in a voice loud enough to be heard by the salesperson.

RIGHT WAY: Keep your temper. Making derogatory remarks in the hope of being overheard by the offender is never in good taste.

Plan August Picnic

Plans for a chicken fry and watermelon bust were made by members of the Good Will club when they met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Verne Melton.

The picnic will be held Sunday, Aug. 24, at the Buhl park. Members of the Iyotta Camp Fire group, which is sponsored by the Good Will club, will be special guests at the affair. Mrs. Harold Lackey is guardian of the group and Mrs. Earl Bickford is assistant guardian.

The transportation committee for the picnic consists of Mrs. Haskell Carr and Mrs. George Wirsching.

Twenty-three members and four guests were present at the meeting. Mrs. Melton led the flag salute and group singing was conducted by Mrs. Henry Powell, accompanied by Mrs. Fay Hann. Mrs. Lee Smith, president, gave a reading and presided at the business session.

Roll call was answered with current events. Guests present were Mrs. Richard M. Flynn, Mrs. James Couch, Mrs. Hyde and Mrs. Walter Williams, Oklahoma.

During the business meeting Mrs. George Wirsching, secretary, read an invitation for the group to attend the camp meeting Tuesday in Twin Falls and a letter from Mrs. Charles Young.

The white elephant was furnished by Mrs. John Conner and won by Mrs. Flynn.

Mrs. Ellen Hawkins and Mrs. Dale Jenkins were in charge of the program for the afternoon. Glenadine Smith presented several piano numbers and Sharon and Elaine Zlatnik played a group of selections. Elaine Zlatnik gave a reading, "At the Mothers' Club."

Mrs. Ellen Hawkins and Mrs. George Rigdon assisted Mrs. Melton in serving the refreshments, which carried out a pink and white color sheme. Gladioli and asters decorated the room.

The next meeting will be held Aug. 27 at at the home of Mrs. Ray Moon.

SUNBURN REMEDIES

If a flaming sunburn is proof that you sun-bathed not wisely but too well, there are ways to ease the fiery torment.

For the quickest, soothe your skin with cold cream filmed over the sensitive area, say doctors. The oily coating protects tender skin from nerve-jarring encounters with the air.

Equally good, especially if blisters pop, are cold wet dressings. These can be made from towels soaked in cold water and laid gently over the protesting flesh.

Relief may also be had from a soda paste, made of bicarbonate of soda or plain cooking soda mixed with water. Used to coat the skin with a thin film—and kept moist by wetting as soon as the paste dries—the soda treatment will stop the burning action of the sun.

You can also find good commercial sunburn remedies—usually with an oily base—which slide on painlessly and soothe a sunsmacked surface. One oil-based lotion which has won followers this summer contains menthol and gum camphor which make a hot skin feel cool and thus minimize the painfulness of the burn.

On the SPORT FRONT With YOSS

(The Fudgy One)

Ye Olde Sport Scrivener picks 'em up and puts 'em down—and not his feet either:

Sterling "Red" Jessen, the Cowboy outfielder, looks good up there even when striking out, which he doesn't do often. . . And he's one of awellest gents on the club.

Bobby Long, the high school's southpaw pitcher whom more than one baseball man believes is the finest baseball prospect hereabouts, has gone to Pocatello for the St. Louis Cardinals' tryout camp. . . And wouldn't it be surprising if the Red Birds—a year hence—pluck him right from under the Yankees' noses.

Quite a number of the city's gridiron fans will see the east-west high school all-star game in Boise Friday. . . They'll include Principal John D. Piatt, of course.

Bill McRoberts, the Cowboy vice-president who has come back from the bathing beaches with a rich coat of tan, brought an idea along. . . He is thinking about issuing a ticket—for the out-of-town fans—that will entitle them to the top dinner at one of the city's leading cafes, transportation to Jaycee park, entry into a Pioneer league game, and transportation back downtown—all for one price.

Jack Radtke, the Cowboys' second sacker, captain, bus driver and business manager, is so well liked that he can do no wrong in the eyes of the fans. . . There's never a boo when he makes a bobble.

The gent who is making boxing possible in Twin Falls is Bill Moran . . . YOSS oughtn't to have revealed that secret.

Bob Koraleski, the Wranglers' third-sacker, looks a lot bigger stripped than in a baseball uniform. . . He's so thick through that you wouldn't hesitate to match him with Jimmy Londos, the wrestler.

Info right off the grapevine says there'll be no Simplot basketball team this winter. . . And this means that you'll probably see L. D. Anderson from Declo around one of these days organizing a strong four or six-club independent league in Magic Valley.

"Bus" Cowham, the popular Bowladrome manager, says so many people have already asked to enter teams in his leagues this winter that he'll have to have two circuits operating nightly. . . And that's the way it should be if the city wants to find a place in the tenpin world.

That tall gent you saw talking to Manager Earl Bolyard near the Cowboy office the other night was a boyhood pal back in Fort Wayne, Ind. . . He didn't know Bolyard was managing a club up this way until his company transferred him to this area and he went to see the Wranglers play.

AND THAT'S THAT FOR NOW, except: Come on you St. Louis Cardinals! It's a world series vacation for Ye Olde Sport Scrivener if they win the N.L. gonfalon.

LOGUE TO SEEK 15th WIN TONIGHT

Cowboys Drop To Third Spot By 7-4 Defeat

By GEORGE F. REDMOND
Times-News Sports Editor

Fifteen victories look a lot better than 14 in the record book for some reason or the other and that will be 19-year-old Frank Logue's objective as the side-arming Cowboy northpaw ascends the parpet tonight in the third game of the so far disasterous series with the Salt Lake City Bees. Of course, he will have the added objective of hurling the Wranglers back into second place from which they fell last night when the Bees triumphed, 7-4.

And inasmuch as Bob Drilling did so well in the first contest of the series, Manager "Tommy" Thompson has come to the conclusion that there must be another victory in the Drilling family. Therefore, he will send Bob's little brother, Dick, to the hillock as Logue's opponent.

Bees Sting in Right Places

Both the Cowboys and the Bees got 10 safeties, the former off Bob Lester, who went the distance, and the latter off Billy "Red" Rose, who gave way to Frank Prowse with one down in the eighth frame. However, the Bees' stingers were sunk in the right places and that fact accounted for their victory.

A crowd of 2,021 turned out to watch the debut of Billy "Red" Rose, the latest hurler to be sent here by the Yankee farm organization, and he hurled fine ball, allowing only one earned run up to the eighth frame when the Bees scored all their runs.

The Bees notched all the runs they were to get until the eighth in the first frame. Jacinto reached first safely when shortstop Hal Loewe fumbled his bounder, and then stole second. Cecil walked and he and Jacinto moved up a base each on a wild pitch. Then Rymer doubled to right center to send them over the plate. Rymer, who has gone to third on an infield out, then came home when Rose balked.

White Drives in Runs

The Cowboys got one of the runs back in the first when Georgia Leyrer walked, Svend Jessen singled and Bob White doubled and in the fourth Chuck Balassi got a $25 homer over the Studebaker sign in deep right center.

The Wranglers tied the game up in the seventh when Rose singled over second but was forced by Leyrer, who then stole second and came home when Radtke singled through center.

In the Bees' big eighth, Cecil walked and Rymer singled. Dalton sacrificed the pair along and Robb brought both in with a single between second and short. Rymer, who has gone to third on an infield out, then came home when Rose balked.

Prowse Slops Bees

That brought in Prowse and he hurled hitless ball for the remainder of the distance.

The Cowboys missed an excellent chance to tie the score in the ninth but had to be content with one run. Hal Danielson singled to center, only to be forced by Burleson, batting for Prowse. Leyrer's double to right center placed Burleson on third, from which he scored when Jack Radtke beat out a bounder to Cecil at first. Then Jessen just missed a homer, which would have tied the score, when his drive over the right field wall curved foul by about a foot. White ended the game with a long fly to left field.

Hippopotamuses can stay under water only about five minutes.

Win on Aug. 20 Card Will Give Seabee Northwest Title Claim

Bobby Seabee, Twin Falls 124-pounder, will oppose Tommy Davis, promising Salt Lake City youngster, in the eight-round semi-windup on the Veterans of Foreign Wars' professional boxing program to be staged at Jaycee park next Wednesday night. And if the local lad gets by Davis, Bill Moran, Seabee's manager, will lay claim to the northwest featherweight championship and be prepared to defend the title against any and all comers.

That much Moran said last night when he signed the contract for the bout presented him by Bill Bell, the VFW's matchmaker.

"That means that we'll be ready to fight Willie Price, Salt Lake City, and Keith Nuttall, Ogden, former national Golden Gloves flyweight champion on the next program here," stated Moran.

Washington Taking on Weight

Buddy Washington, Pocatello's sensational Negro boxer, who meets Bill Ruyball, Denver 132-pounder in the 10-round main event, had claimed the featherweight title but there is strong doubt that he can make the 126-pound limit anymore. Reports have said that he had to do some last minute drying out to make 128 pounds for Nuttall in Salt Lake City last week.

Since returning from the service, in which he won the Pacific featherweight crown, Seabee has had nine bouts, winning all but his second. That means he will be going after his seventh straight victory against Davis.

One Black Mark

The only black mark on Seabee's record is a three-round kayo by Washington, coming after he had entered the ring at a nine and one-half pound weight disadvantage and had the Pocatello lad near a knockout in the second round. Reports received here said that Seabee's knockout was more the result of his head coming in contact with the ring floor than the blow dealt by Washington.

Matchmaker Bell said that he was busy lining up the preliminaries, a six and two-four rounders, and probably would have the card completed within a day or two.

A portion of the receipts will be given to the polio fund, Bell said. Tickets will go on sale downtown before the end of the week.

Mrs. Molony, Mrs. Sutcliff Each Shoot 53

A faulty putter that caused her to rim the cup on four of the nine greens prevented Mrs. Lisa Molony from taking an undisputed lead after the first nine holes of play in the 27-hole women's city championship tournament at the municipal links yesterday.

As it turned out she had to be content with a 10-over par 53 to share the lead with Mrs. Wanda Sutcliff who played later. Mrs. Sutcliff missed a chance to grab the leadership when she took a one-over-par six on the final green.

All-Star Prep Gridiron Tilt Set for Friday

BOISE, Aug. 14 (AP)—The "east" and "west" all-star high school football squads, in training here for the Friday evening's gridiron spectacle, climbed into their new uniforms to go through snappy drills at the junior college field.

Both squads appeared in perfect condition for this first annual contest sponsored by the Idaho Coaches association, which is holding a coaching school here this week.

The east stars, under the direction of Charles Atkinson, Pocatello, will be clad in blue and white for the game, while the westerners, being coached by Elmer Jordan, Coeur d'Alene, will wear red and white into the tilt.

Meanwhile, the coaches will engage in an 18-hole medal golf tournament at the Plantation club today.

Six-man football's offensive possibilities were taken up by John Reagan, coach at Fairfield, who has won two Times-News "Potato bowl" championships.

Dixie Howell, head football coach at the University of Idaho, discussed the offensive system and basic plays his Vandals will use this season. Howell plans to have his club operate from the traditional Notre Dame box.

Speakers and demonstrators on basketball were Lyle Smith, director of athletics at Boise Junior college; Steve Belko, freshman coach at University of Idaho; Lamont Lee, coach at Northwest Nazarene college, Nampa, and Ray Turner, former Idaho university cage star who this fall becomes coach at Moscow high school.

Smith outlined man-to-man defense; Belko—the double post offense, Lee—single post play, and Turner, who once led the Pacific coast conference in scoring, demonstrated the play of a post man in basketball.

HOGAN FAVORED

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 14 (AP)—Topped by Ben Hogan as the defending champion, most of the country's outstanding golf professionals set off here today in the first round of the third annual 72-hole Portland Open tournament. The $10,000 prize money event shaped up as a wide open scramble although Hogan, the "Little Mr. Big" golf, possibly rated a slight favorite in view of his past performances on the scenic, stroke-exacting Portland club course.

The 1944 Washington baseball club dropped from runner-up position to the cellar in a single day, June 13.

Make this test today:
TRY IT STRAIGHT!
Before you mix that favorite drink with King Blended whisky—may we suggest that you try a sip poured straight from the bottle!
That's the real, old-fashioned test of any whisky! And since King is rich in fine, full flavor—it naturally imparts its distinctive taste and aroma to make your mixed drinks taste better, too.

How to Make a Better Highball: Put 2 or 3 ice cubes in highball glass. Pour in 1½-oz. of King whisky, and add your favorite mixer—water, seltzer, ginger ale or cola.

Then You'll Know Why Fine Kentucky Blending Makes Every Drop of Your Favorite Mixed Drink TASTE BETTER, TOO!

How to Make a Better Manhattan: Add to 1½-oz. of King whisky, ¾-oz. of good sweet Vermouth. A dash of bitters, then stir vigorously with ice. Garnish with cherry.

Made by the Distillers of Famous OLD FORESTER Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whisky, 100 Proof. Bottled in Bond.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—A generally lethargic stock market edged forward selectively in the latter part of today's session as a little professional short covering and investment bidding propped steels, motors, rails and assorted special issues.

From the start dealings were among the slowest of the year. Wall street offices attracted scant patronage because of a heat wave.

While exceptions were plentiful, gains of fractions to a point or so predominated at the close. Transfers for the full stretch dwindled to around 600,000 shares.

The reporter wanted to know if the department was being torn up and the President replied it can't be permanently torn up any more than any other department, but he thinks it is being torn up now.

Jewish-Arabic Battles Flame In Holy Land

JERUSALEM, Aug. 14 (UP)—Hundreds of Arabs charged out of the orange groves fringing Tel Aviv today and attacked passing Jews in the gravest outburst of Arabic-Jewish violence since the riots of 1936-39.

Four days of sporadic skirmishing in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv border zone erupted in a pitched battle and sabotage with guns, daggers and torches.

4 Killed, 20 Wounded

Early reports, while the fighting still was going on said four Jews were killed and 20 wounded. Two dead Jews were taken to the Hadassah hospital at Tel Aviv. Nine others were known to be gravely injured.

At least 10 Jews and three Arabs had been killed in the four days, with the injured mounting above 60.

Troops Swarm Area

British troops and police by the hundreds swarmed to the battlefront today and began rounding up Arab bands of various sizes which sniped at Jewish transport from the Orange groves and sallied forth for close quarter fighting.

A correspondent who reached the scene with police said factories and machines were a shambles. The rattle of gunfire still was heard in various sectors, largely inside the orange groves into which the Arabs had been herded.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (UP)—The civil service commission announced today that 10 additional state department employes have been discharged for loyalty reasons, "all of them involving communism."

The 10 employes were discharged during the nine-month period from July 1, 1946 to March 31, 1947, according to Arthur S. Fleming, civil service commissioner.

Flemming revealed the firings in a letter to Chairman Edward H. Rees, R., Kans., of the house post-office and civil service committee.

Flemming's office and state department officials said the discharged employes were in addition to 10 others whose discharge was announced by Secretary of State Marshall last month.

Grain Harvest In 'High Gear'

Grain has started to roll into Twin Falls elevators as the harvest in this area swings into high gear, three concerns reported here Wednesday.

Although it is too early in the harvest season to determine the volume of grain crops, the general opinion was that yield per acre this year would be below high figures reported last year. One mark of 86 bushels of wheat per acre was reported, but it appeared the average yield would be lower this year.

An employe at one elevator said it appeared the average yield, per acre this year would be around 50 bushels for wheat, with some other grains giving a slightly higher average yield. Judging from amount of grain received to date, it was reported that there appeared to be a larger acreage of wheat in this area with a lesser amount of other grains.

Prior to last Saturday, only "dribbles" of grain had been received at elevators here, but grain was reported arriving Wednesday in "good" volume.

Bonds for School Buses Given OK

BOISE, Aug. 14 (UP)—Idaho law now provides that school districts can issue bonds to pay for school buses as in the past they have been able to bond to build school buildings, Alton Jones, state school superintendent, said today.

Jones said the new Idaho code places a "must" on school districts to furnish transportation for their children.

"Establishment of bus routes in counties continues to be the responsibility of local school leaders with the cooperation and approval of county boards of education as well as state department of education," he said.

Idaho, as other states, is suffering the war aftermath of curtailed school bus equipment, he stated.

There can be no school reorganization in Idaho without reorganization of school bus transportation, he said.

into "the possibility of collusion in some industries to boost prices higher than are justified by increased production costs."

O'Mahoney is a member of the joint congressional committee on the economic report which is scheduled to open its own coast-to-coast inquiry next month into rising living costs.

O'Mahoney said he has no doubt that the committee, in its forthcoming hearings, "will be interested in looking into the whole problem of profits."

He said a study by the National City bank of New York shows the net worth of 25 major food products corporations as $1,088,000,000 as of last July 1, compared with $993,000,000 in Jan., 1945.

The study shows further, O'Mahoney added, that these same companies' annual rate of return increased from 15.2 per cent for the first half of 1946 to 20.8 per cent for the first six months of this year.

Three Days Pass Minus Polio Case

BOISE, Aug. 14 (AP)—Idaho's infantile paralysis outbreak was dormant for the third straight day with hospitals and physicians reporting no new cases to the state department of public health. The disease has stricken 51 persons this year compared with 11 in the same period of 1946.

Three patients were discharged yesterday from Boise hospitals, leaving 19 receiving institutional care.

No new victims have been listed since a spurt Saturday and Sunday when six cases were reported each day.

Probate Court Okays Dismissal of Action

Judgment of dismissal and release of attachment granted by Probate Judge S. T. Hamilton were filed Thursday in the office of the Twin Falls county recorder.

Dismissal was granted after a motion requesting such action was made by A. Lee Johnston who filed the original paper in probate court last Nov. 26 attaching the real property of Marguerite Lowe Bidwell in order to recover $11 allegedly due him plus interest and court costs.

In his motion Johnston said suitable settlement had been made.

Lower Wool Clip Foreseen in '47

BOISE, Aug. 14 (UP)—Idaho's wool shorn for 1947 was estimated today to be two per cent lower than last year and the smallest clip on records back to 1920, the bureau of agricultural economics said. The wool is estimated at 10,754,000 pounds.

Fleece weights this year, however, were the highest on record, being .4 pound above last year and a half pound above average, the bureau said.

Idaho this year, along with Wyoming, topped the list of states in the nation on average weight of fleece.

Number of sheep shorn declined from 1,132,000 in 1946 to 1,065,000 head this year.

"Secure" Jap Peace Viewed By MacArthur

By The Associated Press

Two years ago today Emperor Hirohito thwarted the last, desperate plot of his die-hard militarists and told his people Japan had surrendered. And today General MacArthur told his occupation forces they were entering "the last phase" of their task—to make that peace secure.

The call of the new Philippine republic for a formal peace was less patient. Filipinos, as well as other peoples of Asia, "are clamoring for speedy conclusion" of a treaty, President Manuel A. Roxas reported in a V-J anniversary speech. "They cannot understand why it should be further delayed."

The surrender itself was announced by the emperor in a radio broadcast to his people—after loyal guards had foiled a militarist plot to seize the transcript before it could be put on the air.

San Francisco, the city which blew its top when that happy bombshell burst, with five dead and 500 injured in "victory riots," today was under consideration as the site of the peace conference and from Washington and other capitals has come evidence that the conference may begin within a matter of weeks.

MacArthur's anniversary message today told his troops and civilian workers in Japan they were bringing to "a successful conclusion . . . the vital campaign" to make peace secure.

ENFORCEMENT "GOOD"

BOISE, Aug. 14 (AP)—"There is no evidence of any lack of enforcing the new liquor by the drink law in northern Idaho, Attorney General Robert Allshie told newsmen on his return to Boise after visiting north Idaho cities the past 10 days.
